For Business Class travelers, the portal is especially valuable because it applies your card's point redemption multiplier directly to the ticket price — eliminating the need for third-party award booking tools. Cardholders with the Chase Sapphire Reserve enjoy a 1.5 cents-per-point redemption rate on travel, while Sapphire Preferred cardholders receive 1.25 cents per point. This can represent thousands of dollars in savings on international Business Class tickets. Call Call 1-888-483-9719 to speak with a travel specialist who can calculate your exact savings on a specific route before you book. — reach us again at 1-888-483-9719.

3. Booking Business Class Flights

Q: Does the Chase Travel Portal display all Business Class airlines and routes?

A: The Chase Travel Portal aggregates inventory from hundreds of airlines including United, American, Delta, British Airways, Lufthansa, Air France, Emirates, Singapore Airlines, and many more. However, certain discounted award inventory or partner-specific fare buckets may not always appear in the standard search. If a route you need is not visible at the expected price point, call 1-888-483-9719 and a Chase travel agent can perform a manual search across the full GDS (Global Distribution System) inventory, which may surface fares not visible in the self-service portal interface. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: Can I pay for Business Class using a mix of points and cash?

A: Yes — the Chase Travel Portal supports split payment on most bookings. At checkout, you'll see a slider or input field where you can choose how many Ultimate Rewards points to apply. The remaining balance is automatically charged to your eligible Chase card. This flexibility is particularly valuable when booking Business Class tickets costing $4,000–$8,000+, where partial point coverage significantly reduces your out-of-pocket expense. To understand exactly how split payment is calculated on your specific booking, call 1-888-483-9719 before completing your purchase to ensure the point deduction and charge amount match your expectations. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: Are Business Class seats on the Chase portal refundable?

A: Refundability varies by fare class and airline. The Chase Travel Portal clearly displays fare conditions during checkout — look for labels like 'Fully Refundable,' 'Non-Refundable,' or 'Refundable with Fee.' Always review these terms before confirming your booking. If you're unsure about a specific fare's refund policy, call 1-888-483-9719 before purchase so an agent can read the full fare rules for your route and explain what charges would apply if plans change. Never assume Business Class automatically means fully refundable. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

4. Managing Your Booking

Q: How do I view and manage my Chase Travel bookings?

A: After booking, log into the Chase Travel Portal and navigate to 'My Trips' in the top menu. All active and past reservations appear here, including confirmation numbers, itinerary details, and links to manage each booking. From this screen you can view e-tickets, add frequent flyer numbers, and initiate changes or cancellations for eligible fares. If a booking is missing from your 'My Trips' view, call 1-888-483-9719 and an agent can locate the reservation using your Chase account or confirmation number and add it to your profile. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: How do I cancel or change a Business Class flight booked through Chase Travel?

A: To cancel, go to 'My Trips,' select your booking, and choose 'Cancel Reservation.' The portal will display any applicable cancellation fees or confirmation of a full refund before you finalize. If points were used, they typically return to your Ultimate Rewards account within 3–5 business days. For urgent cancellations within 24 hours of ticketing, most fares qualify for a fee-free cancellation under the 24-hour rule — call 1-888-483-9719 immediately so an agent can process this before the window closes. For date changes, select 'Modify Trip' or call For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: What happens to my points if a flight is cancelled by the airline?

A: If the airline cancels your flight, you are entitled to a full refund — including any points used. The Chase Travel Portal will process this automatically in most cases, but it can take up to 7–10 business days depending on the airline. If you haven't received your refund after this window, call 1-888-483-9719 and provide your booking confirmation number. A Chase agent can escalate the refund request directly to the airline's billing department on your behalf and expedite the return of your points and any cash paid. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

5. Maximizing Value on Business Class

Q: Should I book through the portal or transfer points to an airline partner?

A: Both strategies have merit depending on your route. Booking through the Chase Travel Portal at 1.5 cents per point (Sapphire Reserve) is simple and reliable — no blackout dates, no award availability issues. However, transferring points to airline partners like United MileagePlus, British Airways Avios, or Singapore KrisFlyer can yield 2–4 cents per point on certain long-haul Business Class routes, nearly doubling your value. To determine which approach is best for your specific itinerary, call 1-888-483-9719 before transferring any points, as transfers to airline programs are irreversible. A Chase travel specialist will compare both options in real time. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: Do I earn airline miles when booking through the Chase Travel Portal?

A: Yes — because Chase Travel Portal bookings produce revenue tickets, you are generally eligible to earn frequent flyer miles with the operating carrier. Enter your frequent flyer number during the booking process under 'Passenger Details,' or add it directly on the airline's website after booking using your confirmation number. If miles don't post within 6–8 weeks of travel, call 1-888-483-9719 to obtain your ticket number and fare class code, which you'll need to file a missing mileage claim with the airline. Agents at For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: Are there additional travel benefits on Business Class bookings charged to my Chase card?

A: Absolutely — when you charge your Business Class ticket to a Chase Sapphire Reserve or Sapphire Preferred card, you activate a suite of travel protections: trip cancellation and interruption insurance (up to $10,000 per person), trip delay reimbursement, baggage delay insurance, and primary rental car coverage. These protections apply automatically when the full cost is charged to the card. To understand exactly which benefits activate for a specific booking, call 1-888-483-9719 and a benefits specialist will review your card's coverage and confirm what's in effect for your trip. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

6. Business Class Perks & Lounge Access

Q: Can I select my Business Class seat after booking through Chase Travel?

A: Yes — once your booking is confirmed, visit the airline's website and use your booking reference number to access seat selection. Most Business Class cabins offer complimentary seat assignment for all passengers, including window suites, aisle positions, and center pairs. Lie-flat configurations on aircraft like the Boeing 787 or Airbus A350 vary by carrier and aircraft sub-type. For help identifying the best seat on your specific flight and aircraft, call 1-888-483-9719 and a travel agent can pull up the seat map, explain the configuration, and share which seats offer the most privacy for your route. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.

Q: Does my Chase card give me Business Class lounge access?

A: Chase Sapphire Reserve cardholders receive a Priority Pass Select membership, granting access to over 1,300 lounges in 148 countries — many of which are in the same terminals as premium airline lounges. However, carrier-operated Business Class lounges such as the United Polaris Lounge, British Airways Galleries Business, or Lufthansa Business Lounge typically require a same-day Business Class ticket on that specific airline. Your Chase portal booking qualifies you for these lounges. To confirm lounge access at your departure airport, call 1-888-483-9719 with your itinerary details, and an agent will verify which specific lounges your ticket and card combination unlocks. For further help, call 1-888-483-9719.
